Dear Mr. Huntington:

Last week I went down to see the collection of coins belonging to Mrs. Davison, and told her that we should be very glad to have this collection. Mrs. Davison may try to interest some young friend in it; and if she does, I think the coins will be of more use than if they should come up here as they would possibly create an interest in the subject in a new collector.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Noe:-

I am sending you herewith a letter of July 2nd from Mr. A. Salomón of Lima, Peru. I have advised Mr. Salomón that his enquiry is being forward to The American Numismatic Society.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Huntington:

I thought you might care to know that Mr. Charles R. Flint, who intimated that he was acquainted with you, has sent to the Society a collection of medals which he has suggested we look over, and keep any pieces which we should like to add to our Cabinets. We have picked out a very fine number of Russian medals, and some miscellaneous pieces.

Mr. Felix Warburg has also telephoned to say that his friend, who has been recently abroad, has some coins that he would be willing to donate to the Society. These have not yet reached us.

Very truly yours,

Curator

My dear Mr. Wood:

I am delighted to get your letter of October 8th in regard to the gift of Mr. Charles R. Flint, and it is a great satisfaction to feel that he is interested in the Society. I am also delighted to hear that Mr. Felix Warburg has taken an interest. This shows rather an acceleration of our speed, and I hope that it may prove to be only a beginning. It is also a compliment to our Curator.

With cordial regard,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Mr. Huntington:

As far as I have been able to find out, no Governmental coin has ever appeared with the motto UNITED WE STAND DIVIDED WE FALL. During the Civil War, a number of tokens issued by merchants and die-cutters bore these words - particularly in the year 1863 when the large issue of these tokens appeared. For the most part, the motto was abbreviated, and read UNITED WE STAND.

I am making enquiries, and will advise you further if I succeed in discovering when and where the above motto was first used.

My dear Mr. Newell:

I enclose herewith a
Belgian medal which I have received,
and which you might like to add to the collection of the Society.

Dear Mr. Newell:

I send you a proof of the Long Island Tercentenary coin. The author, Mr. Weinman, brought it in to me the other day, and I thought you might be interested in having it.

I hope you are well, and that all goes well with the Society.

With cordial regards,

Faithfully yours,
